Helmets

Modern climbing is all about movement: on rock, on ice or both and across the seasons, adapting skills to surroundings and circumstances to make the most of changing conditions. That's why last year Wild Country brought the first helmet to help you do the same, the modular Alpine Shield, as well as the burly 360. And so this year we launch their pared down cousin, the nimble Rock Lite, a perfect 'cragging' lid. Trim and stylish the Rock Lite is aimed at those with a pure rock agenda that want to climb clean and light. All helmets are 3 Sigma Rated, UIAA 106, CE EN 12492

NEW rock lite

Sharp and stylish, for your hardest ascents and those 'big' days out, the Rock Lite performs supremely across all terrain and at all levels.

Rope Control

Sometimes the going up is all about the coming down! With that in mind the VC Pro 2 is a confidence inspiring device that combines an organic shape for ease of use on all sizes of cord with total security. Perfect for multi-pitch trad or alpine climbing it's built for the all-round climber that needs a bit more when it's 'out there'. And 'out-there' there's still no better partner for than the exceptional Ropeman 1 or 2: from crevasse rescue, cliff rescue to moufflage and more, these mini-marvels have been well proven in the field, over time, everytime.

Passive Protection

Once again the past provides perspective. So as the company that produced the first ever curved nuts, Rocks, it's worth noting when we say that our current range of passive protection creates the best ever rack: tested, refined, with matching anodising and clean lines. Mix and match with: Rocks - lightened, anodised, tapered and tested; Superlights - single wired sinkers; Rockcentrics - big, flexible and forgiving; Mini-Rocks - super slimline re-assurance; and Classics - the original design from the original designers.

Lighter, stronger, more ergonomic to use and with a model for every style of climbing, the fundamentals of our rack just get better and better. From the ground breaking Helium to the 'industry standard' Wild Wire and all points between, Wild Country offers an unrivalled range for the serious climber. So if you're redpointing or on-sighting, on rock, or ice, or both, there's a clip for you, made just the way you want it. All Biners + Draws are 3 Sigma Rated, UIAA 121, CE EN 12275, 10kN Proof Loaded. All draws 10/12mm Dyneema.

Lockers

2010 brings in the Ion, two new Synergy's and a re-worked Titan which means this expansive range has a screwgate for every occasion; from runners to belay, aid or instruction. Equally importantly all these lockers now have Keylock (no-hook) noses giving slicker access and better rope clipping at all times. All Lockers are 3 Sigma Rated, UIAA 121, CE EN 12275, 10kN proof loaded.

Cams

The worlds smallest cams, Zero's, and the worlds most tried and tested cams, Friends, both come from the original cam company, Wild Country. Since 1977 Friends have opened up the world and with these two ranges it's easy to see why we're as proud of our heritage as we are of our technical ability. So remember, wherever you go, and whatever you climb, from splitters to shutdowns, we've got you covered.
